TGI Fridays Kiosk FAQs

Are these the same TGI Fridays foods served in restaurants?

Yes! The foods available for the TGI Fridays kiosk use the same ingredients, patented recipes, and kitchens. TGI Fridays kiosk foods are crafted specifically by the TGI Fridays culinary team for the LBX Food Robotics smart oven, which combines heating technologies to ensure high-quality results. With perfectly portioned ingredients and packaging designed to crisp and brown just right, customer favorites come out with bubbly cheese, crispy crusts, and bold, signature flavors, all in under three minutes. You get the same TGI Friday's quality you love, available anytime.

Where do the foods come from?

TGI Fridays foods are created by TGI Friday's and distributed through Sysco.

Can I serve TGI Fridays foods in my existing Bake Xpress?

TGI Friday's menu items may only be offered in a TGI Fridays branded kiosk for optimal customer experience.

Where can I put my TGI Fridays kiosk?

Anywhere with a power outlet and hungry customers! Popular locations include:

- Airports & transportation hubs
- Hospitals & medical centers
- Universities & schools
- Office buildings & retail centers
- Casinos & hotels

What kind of support is available?

Automated Restaurant Solutions provides full onboarding, menu setup, marketing support, and ongoing technical assistance. We'll guide you through everything from machine installation to inventory management. In some locations, we can offer operational support as well.
